These past years I have been doing many projects and small jobs as a freelancer for many people. Each one of these projects has made me gain experience as a professional and learn about many of the challenges I face when working for a client. However, I appreciate all these contributions that have made me know how valuable it is to be able to communicate actively with people to convey ideas in a way that everyone can receive them.

On the other hand I have worked as an Art Director in Buzz, a marketing agency in Barcelona which allowed me to work with great brands in the beauty world. Next to this experience I moved to Device, an animation studio. In this last place I work as social media manager and designer for them. Last but not least, I still work on freelance projects whenever I am available.

Each one of my experiences has made me grow as a professional and realize the importance of good communication in the field of design and marketing.
